Write one goal you are working on: Today; Quarterly
Write one goal your department is working on: Today; Quarterly
What mountain will you have to move to meet your goals? Who do you need to help you?
Cultivate Gratitude: Practice noticing…each day. Write down one small gift of grace that happened that carried you through the day

Think about the goals you’ve identified in your little book – will they involve taking a risk or working on something that will stretch you?
How hard are you working at reframing or rethinking? Are you thinking differently? How do you challenge your assumptions? What does “obsolescence” mean to you?
